God's plans are bigger than your mistakes. Pray for wisdom and new direction.

Never give up! Keep praying. Let your TEST become your TESTimony! Let your MESS become your MESSage!

Dear God, Help me to have words that are uplifting and encouraging to others! Give all your cares to the Lord!

If we do not allow prayer to drive sin out of our life, then sin will drive prayer out of your life.

Prayers are so very powerful!

*"Blessed is every one that feareth the Lord; that walketh in his ways" (Ps 128:1). Here is another mark of those under divine benediction: to have such a deep reverence of the Spirit as results in regular obedience to Him.
The fear of the Lord is a holy awe of His majesty, a filial dread of displeasing Him.*

Sparky Clancy Update (Posted on Facebook, Friday, June 30, 2017)

Multiple sets of X-rays, 3 casts, and 3 bone repositions later...today:

X-rays ... cast off ... let the physical therapy begin! (Ruth was able to help take the cast off which made her day!)

The brace will have to be on for a while, but they want him to start doing exercises 3x a day to start trying to regain range of motion and strength.

If you look at where the mouse arrow is pointing you can see the angle the bone has healed to. Not great. Not as bad as it could be!

Praise the Lord! And thank you for your prayers!
