It is a human paradox that to be free we must abide by laws that constrain our freedom. Either we must discipline ourselves to submit to an orderly way of life, or we will be forced to submit to tyranny. But who determines the “orderly way of life?” Left to ourselves we read with Benjamin, “All animals are equal, but some animals are more equal than others.” It is important to understand that God gave us divine laws and the means to discover them. From this vantage point we can Understand the Times in Light of Scripture.

Quotable: Lord, help me to remember that nothing will happen to me today that you and I cannot handle together.

The Law manifested what was in man—sin; grace manifests what is in God—love, mercy. The Law speaks of what man must do for God; grace tells of what Christ has done for men.
The Law demanded righteousness from men; grace brings righteousness to men. The Law brought out God to men; grace brings in men to God.
From “Gleanings in the Godhead”, by A.W. Pink
