Evening Service 6:00 pm

We have looked at the theology, philosophy, ethics, biology, psychology, sociology, law, politics and economics of today's dominant worldviews. One subject matter remains. Or we might say, "the rest is history." What makes great history? How should we study history? These are important questions, especially when we realize that the vast majority of scripture is rightly understood as history. We need to make history our vocation in order to vividly tell the story of what God is doing through flawed people in order to accomplish His grand purposes. We will be able to do this only as we Understand the Times in Light of Scripture.

Quotable: "The secret of success is hard work."

*The doctor has no cure for the drunkard.
Medical skill cannot save him. But grace can!
Without doctors, drugs, priests, penance, works, money or price, grace actually saves. Hallelujah!
Yes, grace saves. It snaps the fetters of a lifetime, and makes a poor sinner a partaker of the divine nature and a rejoicing saint.*
