Evening Service ..... 6:00 pm

This evening we will explore the subject of gun control. You might be thinking, "should we even be talking about guns in a church setting?" Or you might ask, "isn't there more important issues to talk about?" If this heavily debated subject was just about guns, then maybe these questions should be answered affirmatively. But this subject has to do more with heart control than it does gun control. We will use our time together on this subject as an exercise in how to apply biblical principals to everyday life and political issues.

Quotable: Flattery is like chewing gum, enjoy briefly, but don't swallow.

Can You Help?

There is a sign up for mowing our church yard for the summer months. Can you help keep our lawn beautiful as a testimony in our neighborhood? Many hands make light work! For questions, please see Les Miller.

*[Paul] and his fellow gospelers were "ministers of the new testament" or covenant. He then draws a series of contrasts between the two covenants, Judaism and Christianity. What pertained to the old is called "the letter," and that relating to the new "the spirit."
