Evening Service 6:00 pm

This evening we return to the life of Samson. Samson was blessed to have godly parents who desired their son to be all that God intended him to be. What a grand start. But we learn quickly that having godly parents isn't enough when it comes to a child choosing to be obedient to the will of God or not. It isn't how we start the race of life that matters; it is how we finish the race of life that is all-important

Quotable: Wisdom is seeing things from God's point of view.

Humor -
A young lady was soaking up sunshine on the beach, when a little boy approached and asked: "Do you believe in God?"
The young lady nodded, considerably surprised.
"And do you always go to church on Sunday?"
"Yes, I do," replied the young lady, getting more interested.
"And read the Bible?"
"Every day."
The little boy was noticeably relieved. "Well, then, will you please hold my quarter while I go swimming?"

*"And took upon Him the form of a servant"...None of Christ's divine attributes were relinquished, for they are as inseparable from His person as heat is from fire, or weight from substance. But His majestic glory was, for a season, obscured by the interposing veil of human flesh. Nor is this statement negated by John 1:14 - "we beheld His glory" (explained by Mt 16:17), in contrast from the unregenerate masses before whom He appeared as "a root out of a dry ground," having "No form nor comeliness" (Is 53:2).
