Lucifer, the great enemy of the church, will never be quiet until he is cast eternally into the Lake of Fire. He is always ready to deceive and mislead those who are not careful to keep close to Scripture. Nowhere is this more evident than in the realm of revival. Tonight we will examine Scripture in order to obtain Biblical expectations concerning revival. How is it that we obtain the nearness of God?

Quotable: You can often tell a wise man by things he does not say.

Email Update and a Couple Prayer Requests from Farlows -

- Ellen and the 4 boys went back to Brazil this past Wednesday. Barry stayed to be pallbearer at his grandpa's funeral (also Wednesday). He was able to change his ticket at almost no cost.
- * He is staying an additional month to do as much studying as he can at the Dallas Theological Seminary library which is about a half hour from his parent's house
- * Things have opened up more in Brazil, except for the Bible College. There is only one more month of classes left for this semester.
- * The area of Brazil where they live is experiencing a drought, and water is rationed, meaning that Ellen is not able to her normal amount of daily laundry. Pray for rain!

*The "mystery" is great. How is it possible that the same person should be at the same time infinite and finite, omnipotent and helpless?
He altogether transcends our understanding.
How can two complete spirits coalesce in one person?
No one can explain it. Nor are we called upon to do so.
Both natures act in concert in one person.
All the attributes and acts of both natures are referred to one person.
From "Gleanings in the Godhead", by A.W. Pink*
