Potluck luncheon following our morning service (L-Z: set-up; A-K: clean-up).

Following our potluck luncheon, we'll be doing the final set-up for our Family Fall Festival. The Festival is this evening from 6:00-8:00 p.m. Your help would be appreciated – to run a game, help in the kitchen or just be available to visit with our guests. There will be no afternoon or evening service today.

Quotable: When in deep water, keep your mouth shut.

Excerpt from "Guide to Ecclesiastical Birdwatching", by LeRoy Koopman
Cold-blooded Seat Shifter

In every flock there is always present at least one Cold-blooded Seat Shifter. The female of this not uncommon species has an inbred suspicion of walls with openings and a dread fear of all moving air, real and imagined.

Even in summer, this flighty bird arrives full-feathered and wearing long-sleeved plumage. She alights fitfully, continually searching for a perch in the church which is distant from all open doors and windows, away from all fans and air conditioners, free of all drafts and cross-currents. No matter where she settles, she shivers.

The most distinctive characteristics of this unusual creature are her huddled posture and her ceaseless efforts to pull her shoulder feathers higher than her neck. Also typical of this species are her cold claws, goose pimples and quivering

*"O that men would praise the Lord for His goodness, and for His wonderful works to the children of men."
(Ps. 107:8). Gratitude is the return justly required from the objects of His beneficence; yet is it often withheld from our great Benefactor simply because it is exercised toward us in the common course of events.
